[Qianling Mountain] Located in Yunyan District, Guiyang City, Guizhou Province, it is a national AAAA-level tourist attraction and is known as the "No. 1 Mountain in Southern Guizhou". It is famous throughout the country for its secluded mountains, dense forests and clear lakes. Qianling Mountain has been a famous tourist and pilgrimage site in Guiyang City since ancient times. Qianling Mountain is a comprehensive park integrating natural scenery, cultural relics, folk customs and leisure entertainment. Qianling Mountain consists of six major tourist areas, including Hongfu Temple, Qianling Lake, and Sanling Bay. Each scenic area has its own unique charm, and together they form a famous and beautiful city park in Guiyang. It is famous for its bright mountains, beautiful waters, secluded forests, ancient temples, holy springs and monkeys. 【Jiaxiu Tower】 Located on the Nanming River in the south of Guiyang City, Guizhou Province, it is built on a huge stone in the river. It is a national AAA tourist attraction. Jiaxiu Tower was built in the Ming Dynasty. After the building was destroyed and rebuilt, it was renamed "Laifeng Pavilion". In the Qing Dynasty, Jiaxiu Tower was renovated many times and its original name was restored. The existing building was rebuilt in the first year of Xuantong (1909). Jiaxiu Tower has three floors, the upper, middle and lower floors, with white stones as railings, which are retracted layer by layer. The Jiaxiu Tower is decorated with red beams and green tiles, and is surrounded by beautiful water and mountains. It deserves the name Jiaxiu Tower. In 2006, as a component of the "Wenchang Pavilion and Jiaxiu Tower", the Jiaxiu Tower was announced by the State Council as a national key cultural relics protection unit. 【Colorful Guizhou style】 The colorful Guizhou style song and dance show is the world's top national stage epic. It took 600 actors from 17 ethnic groups to carefully create 4 versions over a period of 8 years. There have been more than 3,000 commercial performances at home and abroad in 20 countries and regions and 50 cities around the world. It has been listed in the "National Cultural Tourism Key Project List". Former Canadian Prime Minister Harper and former British Prime Minister Tony Blair praised it as "one of the most ecological song and dance performances in the world." Netizens commented that "a night of colorful Guizhou style interprets the six hundred years of Guizhou." Based on the deep local ethnic memory, it interprets the colorful and romantic customs of the Miao, Buyi, Dong, Yi, Shui and other ethnic minorities who have lived for generations. The Dong songs, ethnic stunts, instrumental music performances and exquisite ethnic costume shows that cannot be replicated truly write the legend of "traveling across the land of China and being intoxicated with the beautiful and colorful Guizhou". "Colorful Guizhou Style" is full of the precipitation of time, breaking through the barriers of the mountains with its profound cultural heritage, and every presentation is full of mysterious charm.

【Huaxi Yelang Valley】 Yelang Valley Karst Ecological Park is a unique and mysterious valley. The entire ecological park is conceived in a canyon and covers an area of 200,000 square meters. Opposite to it, Cape Mountain is said to have been the residence of Queen Yelang's successor, Jin Zhusi. The ruins of the ancient Yelang Tun Fort are still preserved on the top of the mountain, hence the name of Yelang Valley. According to historical records, Doupeng Mountain was the jurisdiction of Yelang City, the ancient Yelang National Highway Prefecture. The seat of Jinzhu Mansion, a descendant of King Yelang. The ruins of the ancient Yelang city wall and fort are still preserved on the top of the mountain. Doupeng Mountain not only has rich historical and cultural connotations of the ancient Yelang Kingdom, but also has ancient tourism resources with beautiful scenery. 【Zhijin Cave】 It is now a national geological park, a national natural heritage, a national AAAA tourist attraction, and a world geopark. Zhijin Cave is ranked first among "China's six most beautiful tourist caves", "China's most beautiful tourist attractions" and "China's top ten strange caves". Zhijin Cave is a multi-level and multi-type karst cave. The cave is 6.6 kilometers long, 175 meters wide at its widest point, with a relative height difference of more than 150 meters. The total cave volume reaches 5 million cubic meters. The space is wide and has three floors: upper, middle and lower. The cave is filled with more than 40 kinds of accumulations such as stalagmites, stone pillars, stone buds and bell flags, forming a variety of karst landscapes. The caves are criss-crossed, rock peaks are scattered around, and flowing water, intermittent ponds, and underground lakes are staggered among them.

【Huangguoshu Waterfall】 It is a national AAAAA-level scenic spot and the largest waterfall in Asia. Located in Zhenning Buyi and Miao Autonomous County, Anshun City, Guizhou Province, China, it is the largest first-level waterfall in the nine-level waterfall group of Baishui River, a tributary of the Tapang River in the Pearl River system. It is named after a common local plant "Huangguoshu". The height of the waterfall is 77.8 meters, the main waterfall is 67 meters high, the width is 101 meters, and the top width is 83.3 meters. It is a typical erosion-cracked waterfall in karst landforms. A total of 18 waterfalls with different styles are formed on the 20 kilometers upstream and downstream of the river. In 1999, it was named the largest waterfall group in the world by the Guinness Headquarters and included in the Guinness Book of World Records. 【Doupotang Waterfall】 It is the widest waterfall in the scenic area. The top of the waterfall is 105 meters wide and 21 meters high. On the top of the waterfall is a huge karst pool with an area of 15,000 square meters. This waterfall has a special phenomenon. Before the flood arrives, it will make a roaring sound, so it is also called the "Roaring Waterfall". It is also the filming location of Journey to the West.

Beipanjiang Bridge is the tallest highway bridge in Asia. The Huajiang Grand Canyon under the bridge is located in Guanling Buyi Autonomous County. It is the largest canyon on the Guizhou Plateau. The scenic spots are distributed along the Beipanjiang River. The roaring river water cuts a canyon more than a thousand meters deep. The mountains are exposed with bluish-gray rocks and rugged rocks, fully demonstrating the Guizhou characteristics of "no land is three feet flat". You can also visit the Beipanjiang Bridge, which spans between two mountains. Its majesty will make you unable to help but admire the skilled craftsmen of Guizhou's bridge construction. Xiwanfenglin Bagua Field Scenic Area is a naturally formed Bagua field, lying flat in the center of the farmland in Nahuizhai. Its shape is magical and blurry, as if it was made by a master craftsman, and it is layered in an orderly manner. "There are so many peaks in the world, but only here are the peaks forming a forest." As the largest and most typical karst peak forest in my country, Xu Xike came to Xingyi twice in his life and was attracted by the "clustered peaks, majestic for thousands of miles, and the most unique scenic spot in the southwest". In 2009, the China Tourism Television Association listed Wanfenglin as "the most desirable place in China". There are three natural floor drains in Bagua Tian, which are bottomless and are called earth eyes - the eyes of the earth. These ash collecting funnels are wide and shallow dish-shaped funnels. The farmland is centered on the funnel and spreads out in an arc, forming a strange "Bagua" pattern. It is said that if you step on the Bagua field, you will be promoted and make a fortune. There is also a Nahui River that passes through the fields, but disappears into the fields. According to the investigation, the river extends underground, emerges from the sky more than 20 kilometers away, and merges into the Pearl River. This kind of funnel was formed by the partial collapse of the underground river and the dissolution of surface water. The ash-containing funnel group is distributed in an orderly strip, revealing that its lower part is an underground river. We also arranged to take a battery car to visit the Bagua Field to reduce the hard work of the trip. The Bagua Field is actually a typical karst surface performance - Xiaoshui Cave, so named because it resembles Zhuge Liang's Bagua Array. Fenglin Buyi Fenglin Buyi is the only Buyi village in Guizhou built to be hidden in the mountains. The scenery is picturesque and feels like a paradise. At the same time, with water as the center, the natural ecology is combined with the Buyi people's habitation of living in groups close to mountains and rivers, and more than 600 Buyi residential buildings of various forms have been built.

Maling River Canyon The canyon is about 15 kilometers long, with cliffs facing each other on both sides. The valley is deep and deep. It is unique in its majesty, strangeness, danger and beauty. It is known as "the most beautiful scar on the earth" and is also known as "the best drifting in China". The Maling River Canyon is located between the uplifted Wumeng Mountains of the Yunnan-Guizhou Plateau and the hills of Guangxi. It is famous for its landscapes such as ground-slit valleys, flying waterfalls, and calcium carbonate walls. The two walls of the canyon have produced large-scale and well-proportioned calcified rocks, forming unique rock waterfalls. There are more than a hundred large and small waterfalls in the more than 70-kilometer-long canyon, which are quite spectacular like the roar of thousands of horses and the gap of the Milky Way. There are unknown water curtain caves hidden under many waterfalls, which are also one of the wonders of the Maling River Canyon. Tianxing Gallery is the core part of the canyon scenic spot. It is a unique landscape with its large-scale waterfalls and rock shale wall hangings forming the main landscape features. There are 56 waterfalls in the 9.7-kilometer section from Maling Ancient Bridge to Tianxing Bridge, and 36 waterfalls throughout the year. Among them, the Tianxing Gallery section, which is only 1.7 kilometers long, has 13 waterfalls including Ten Thousand Horses Roaring Waterfall, Intermittent Five-fold Waterfall, Laoyue Waterfall, Xixin Waterfall and Lulian Waterfall. The waterfall is 120-200 meters high and 20-110 meters wide. It is as strong as a gap in the Milky Way and as soft and graceful as a gauze. Bai Lian volleys in the sky, flying beads splash jade; the sunlight turns into rainbow clouds, which is comparable to the sky. It's like "spraying colorful snow on the wall, making the sky feel cold in the day".

Wanfeng Lake (including cruise ships) Wanfeng Lake is surrounded by thousands of peaks, hence its name. Wanfeng Lake is an artificial lake formed after the Tianshengqiao High Dam Hydropower Station, a national key hydropower project in China, was completed and impounded. It has vast misty waves and shimmering light. Thousands of peaks in the lake form thousands of islands or peninsulas, and the scenery is charming. There are many ethnic cottages along the coast. Their unique houses, attractive customs, as well as the costumes, headdresses and sultry love songs of ethnic minority girls all attract tourists to stop. Liu's Manor consists of 13 large and small courtyards that combine Chinese and Western styles. It was first built in the Jiaqing period of the Qing Dynasty and began to take shape during the Xianfeng and Tongzhi periods. It is the largest "tunbao" style building complex in China covering an area. It is a modern building with high historical, scientific and artistic value. The stone and wood carvings on the building components have strong local characteristics. The stone pillars in the manor and the cursive, official, seal and other characters inscribed on the memory plaques all have certain artistic appreciation and archaeological value.

【Stone Forest Scenic Area】 About 300 million years ago, Kunming Stone Forest Scenic Area was a vast ocean. After a long period of geological evolution, it finally formed extremely precious geological relics, covering many types of karst landforms on the earth. It has been rated as a "World Geopark" and "World Natural Heritage Scenery" by the United Nations Educational Science and Technology Commission. In 1982, it was approved by the State Council to become one of the first batch of national key scenic spots. It is a national 5A tourist attraction and a national civilized scenic tourist area.

【Yiliang Jiuxiang Scenic Area】 It is a large-scale comprehensive scenic spot integrating natural scenery, humanities and history. This scenic spot is famous throughout the country for its unique karst landforms and is known as the "Land of Karst Cave". Jiuxiang Scenic Area has hundreds of large and small caves. It is one of the largest and most numerous cave community systems in China with the most unique cave landscape. It is known as the "Cave Museum". Yiliang Jiuxiang Scenic Area not only attracts tourists with its magnificent natural landscape, but also allows tourists to experience the charm of local culture while enjoying the beautiful scenery through rich cultural activities and folk custom displays.

【Kunming Old Street】 Kunming is the only original old neighborhood that has been preserved in this famous historical and cultural city. It is the largest area in Kunming and has the most preserved residential buildings and shop buildings with the characteristics of the Qing Dynasty and the Republic of China. It has high historical value, cultural value and the emotional value of old Kunming. Kunming Old Street is a block project named after a unified place in China. It is the last remaining historical block in Kunming. 【Golden Horse and Jade Rooster】 It is located at the intersection of Sanshi Street and Jinbi Road in the center of Kunming. It is 12 meters high and 18 meters wide. It has exquisite carved beams and painted buildings. The east side is adjacent to Jinma Mountain and is named Jinmafang. The west side is adjacent to Biji Mountain and is named Bijifang. It is the symbol of Kunming. The Golden Horse and Jade Rooster was built during the Xuande period of the Ming Dynasty and has a history of nearly 400 years.

Novotel Kunming - Dianchi Lake

[Kunming Dianchi National Tourism Resort] With the concern and attention of the resort management committee, a new type of park integrating tourism, leisure, entertainment and vacation, and promoting the history, culture and cultural landscape of Dianchi Lake is appearing with a new look on the red soil plateau and the shore of Dianchi Lake. The natural Haigeng Park is a good place for people to relax and vacation. Painted pavilions, stone boats, sea view corridors, lush green lawns, gorgeous cherry blossom forests, luxury yachts, seaside leisure squares, and thousands of seagulls flying in winter and spring make man and nature harmonious and romantic. 【Green Lake Park】 Located at the foot of Luofeng Mountain in downtown Kunming, at the west foot of Wuhua Mountain, opposite the main entrance of Yunnan University, it was originally named Caihaizi. It was originally a bay in Dianchi Lake, but later became a clear lake due to the drop in water level. Green Lake is an emerald in Kunming with its sparkling water, shady green trees, and beautiful buildings. It enjoys the reputation of being the jade in the city. Before the Yuan Dynasty, the water level of Dianchi Lake was high, and it was still a small bay outside the city. There were many rice fields, vegetable gardens, and lotus ponds, so it was called "Caihaizi". Because there are nine springs in the northeast, which merge into a pool, it is also called "Nine Dragon Pool". In the early years of the Republic of China, it was transformed into a garden. Willow trees were planted throughout the garden and there were many kinds of lotus flowers in the lake. It began to be known as "Green Lake". "Image of Yunnan" is the country's first large-scale original ecological song and dance show. It is an artistic masterpiece created by the famous Chinese dance artist Yang Liping as the artistic director and chief choreographer and starring in it. It has become another classic masterpiece born in Yunnan after "Five Golden Flowers" and "Ashima". It is a new stage production that integrates tradition and modernity. It newly integrates and reconstructs the essence of original local singing and dancing and folk dance classics, showing the rich national customs of Yunnan. 70% of the actors in this song and dance troupe come from local ethnic minority actors from various prefectures and even fields in Yunnan. The performance costumes restore the life prototypes of folk costumes of various ethnic groups in Yunnan.

[Guandu Ancient Town] Located in the southeast of the main city of Kunming, on the north bank of Dianchi Lake and the lower reaches of Baoxiang River, it is an important commercial and trade town in the area around Dianchi Lake in history. It is a national AAAA-level tourist attraction and a national characteristic landscape tourist town. With a history of more than a thousand years, it is not only one of the birthplaces of ancient Yunnan culture, but also a well-known ancient ferry crossing and Buddhist holy place in central Yunnan. [Kunming Dounan Flower Market] It is adjacent to the east bank of Dianchi Lake in Chenggong District, Kunming City, and is known as "Jin Dounan". Kunming Dounan Flower Market has developed into the largest fresh cut flower trading market in Asia and is a famous flower capital. More than 80% of fresh cut flowers from Yunnan Province and flowers from neighboring provinces and countries are traded. It occupies 70% of the market share in more than 80 large and medium-sized cities across the country and exports to 46 countries and regions. It is said that 7 out of 10 fresh cut flowers in the country are produced in Yunnan. [Xishan Scenic Area] The vegetation is well preserved, and the scenic spots and historic sites include Huating Temple, Taihua Temple, Sanqing Pavilion, Longmen, Nie Er's Tomb, Zhang Tianxu's Tomb, and the Nanyang Machinery Monument commemorating the achievements of overseas Chinese in the Anti-Japanese War. There is a small stone forest on the top of the mountain and the earliest mountain weather station in Yunnan. There are Sheng'an Temple and Xiuyan at the foot of the mountain. [Colorful Yunnan] It was the place where Zhuge Liang led the Shu army to camp during the Three Kingdoms period. Legend has it that when Zhuge Liang captured Meng Huo for the first time, colorful auspicious clouds suddenly appeared in the sky. Zhuge Liang saw this and thought it was a hint from God: He must capture Meng Huo seven times before he can truly conquer the people of this place. Hence the allusion of "Seven Captures of Meng Huo" and the origin of colorful Yunnan. Now Wuhou's camp has become a colorful scene in Yunnan.

Novotel Kunming - Dianchi Lake

【Kunming Golden Palace Scenic Area】 In the 30th year of Wanli in the Ming Dynasty (1602), Chen Yongbin, governor of Yunnan, built three Taoist temple complexes, Luxian Temple, Taihe Palace, and Sanyuanguan, in Mingfeng Mountain, covering an area of 1,773 acres. It is adjacent to Jindian Reservoir in the east, China '99 World Horticultural Expo Park in the south, Chuanjin Road in the southwest and Kunming City, and Jinhei Highway and Kunqu Expressway in the north. Kunming Golden Palace Scenic Area includes the Golden Palace of Taihe Palace, ancient buildings of the Ming and Qing Dynasties, and 12 specialized botanical gardens including the Tea Garden, Rhododendron Garden, Magnolia Garden, Travel Garden, Waterscape Garden, Rose Garden, and Rare and Endangered Botanical Garden. On February 23, 1982, the "Golden Palace of Taihe Palace" was announced by the State Council of the People's Republic of China as the second batch of national key cultural relics protection units. In 2001, Kunming Golden Palace Scenic Area was among the first batch to be included in the national AAAA-level scenic spots. The Golden Palace is not made of gold, but of pure copper. If it were really made of gold, it would not be preserved today. The Golden Palace was first built in the Wanli Period of the Ming Dynasty, and the Bronze Palace was moved to Jizu Mountain in Binchuan in the 10th year of Chongzhen in the Ming Dynasty (1637). In the early Qing Dynasty, Wu Sangui, a general from the Ming Dynasty who was "a beauty in anger", stationed in Kunming and suppressed the remaining peasant uprising in Daxi and the Yongli regime in the Southern Ming Dynasty. He was named "King of Pingxi" by the Qing court. After Wu Sangui took control of the local power in Yunnan and Guizhou, he attempted to march north to the Central Plains to compete with the Qing Dynasty, so he made various preparations secretly. He decided to rebuild the Golden Palace because there were "nine dragons rushing toward the court" in Mingfeng Mountain, and because he usually "begged for killings, took human life lightly, and was afraid of God's punishment, so he fled to the teachings of Buddha and Laozi."

【Yantong Temple】 Yuantong Street, located in Kunming City, is one of the oldest Buddhist temples in Kunming, with a history of more than 1,200 years. At the same time, it is also the largest temple in Kunming. It was built in the Nanzhao period of the Tang Dynasty and was originally named Butuoluo Temple.

【Yunnan Ethnic Village】 Located on the bank of Dianchi Lake in the southwest suburb of Kunming City, Yunnan Province, it covers an area of 89 hectares. It is a window that reflects and displays the social and cultural customs of the 26 ethnic groups in Yunnan. It is a national AAAA tourist attraction, the National Ethnic Affairs Commission Ethnic Culture Base, the CIOFF Chinese Committee Folk Traditional Culture Base and one of the first national ethnic work contact points of the National Ethnic Affairs Commission. It displays the architectural art, singing and dancing costumes, cultural customs, religious beliefs and living customs of various ethnic groups in Yunnan.
